Impaired Texans are driving up the costs for everyone.

About every 20 minutes, someone in Texas is killed or hurt in a crash involving alcohol. Alcohol is a contributing factor in almost half of all fatal traffic crashes in Texas. Both on- and off-the-job alcohol-related crashes also cost businesses in Texas millions of dollars in lost time, property and health care expense.

Who's driving tonight? If you're drinking, it's not you. Whether at home or at work, never get behind the wheel if you've been drinking. Instead, call a cab or someone you trust to pick you up or simply stay put.
